

About Your Physician

Armen Korkigian, D.O. Internal Medicine

Dr. Korkigian is board certified in Internal Medicine and Geriatric Medicine. He specializes in the medical care of adults. Dr. Korkigian's approach with patients is very individualized and focuses on identifying the needs of the total person not just the person's high blood pressure or diabetes. He prides himself in giving patients the time needed to ask questions or express concerns.

The office offers state-of-the-art laboratory services, including echosonography, x-ray equipment, ultrasound and bone density testing. Upper and lower endoscopies can be performed on the premises as well. All patients are carefully followed to evaluate treatment plans and recovery progress.

Dr. Korkigian is a graduate of the Kansas City College of Osteopathic Medicine and completed his residency training at Botsford Hospital. He is an active member of the American Geriatric Society. Dr. Korkigian is of Armenian descent, bilingual and also speaks Armenian fluently. He is married and the proud father of two children.

Dr. Korkigian is affiliated with Botsford Hospital and HealthMatch.
